Hey Parents!

Help your kids spend more time learning and less time looking.

Add to Chrome

Now available! Add Britannica's FREE Chrome extension and ensure your kids have access to vetted resources as they navigate the web.

ADD TO CHROME: bit.ly/getbritannica
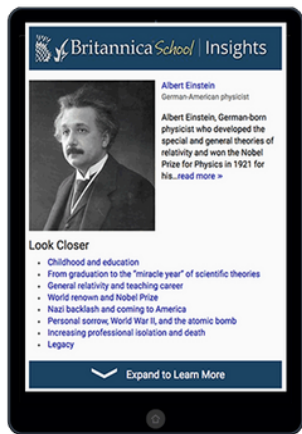

What's a Chrome extension?
Extensions are small software programs that customize your browsing experience. They enable you to tailor Chrome functionality and behavior to your individual needs or preferences.

What's the Britannica School Insights extension?
The Britannica School Insights FREE Chrome extension allows your kids to bring Britannica School content to the top right corner of their web search results. When they conduct a search, using the Chrome browser, they can now surface the Britannica School results along with their regular search results.

Why Britannica School Insights?
- Provide your kids with fact-checked and up-to-date resources
- Raise smarter searchers by ensuring a trusted Web companion is always within reach
- Make every minute of screen-time count: more time learning and less time looking

Britannica School | Insights

Albert Einstein
German-American physicist

Albert Einstein, German-born physicist who developed the special and general theories of relativity and won the Nobel Prize for Physics in 1921 for his...read more »

Look Closer
- Childhood and education
- From graduation to the "miracle year" of scientific theories
- General relativity and teaching career
- World renown and Nobel Prize
- Nazi backlash and coming to America
- Personal sorrow, World War II, and the atomic bomb
- Increasing professional isolation and death
- Legacy

⌄ Expand to Learn More

To fully utilize Britannica School Insights, you will need to be logged in to Britannica School. To access Britannica School at home. Here are your Britannica School access credentials.

LOGIN PASSWORD